

(Marks of Christian Ministry—2 Corinthians 1:12-18)

SMALL GROUP QUESTIONS

- How do we respond when our character or integrity are being attacked?
- Why does Paul appeal to his conscience as a testimony for his authority? What purpose does our conscience serve in our lives?
- Paul is defending himself against false accusations. What false accusations do Christians experience today? How can we evangelize and represent Christ in the midst of false accusations?
- Why are the everyday actions of believers so important to our testimony?
- What relationship does the Holy Spirit have with our conscience?
- Is there anything that particularly stood out to you from the sermon?

FAMILY QUESTIONS

- Why should our words and actions align? What does the word integrity mean?
- Have you ever heard the phrase, "Easier said than done"? Are there any aspects of your life where you are speaking the right thing, but not doing the right thing?

SCRIPTURE MEDITATION

For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you.
